OCTOBER – DECEMBER 2024

Dear Students

"Believe you can and you're halfway there."

- Theodore Roosevelt

As we embark on 2025, we are reminded that every ending marks a new beginning. This transition offers a unique opportunity for introspection, self-improvement, and growth.

The dawn of a new cycle is a symbolic reset, allowing us to leave behind old habits, failures, and regrets while embracing new opportunities for self-discovery and development. It is a chance to reassess our priorities, re-evaluate our goals, and revitalize our commitment to excellence.

The tradition of making resolutions is rooted in the human desire for self-improvement. By setting specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound (SMART) objectives, we can challenge ourselves to reach new heights and work towards becoming better versions of ourselves.

As we strive for personal growth and academic excellence, it is essential to cultivate a growth mindset. This involves embracing challenges, persisting through obstacles, and viewing failures as opportunities for learning and improvement.

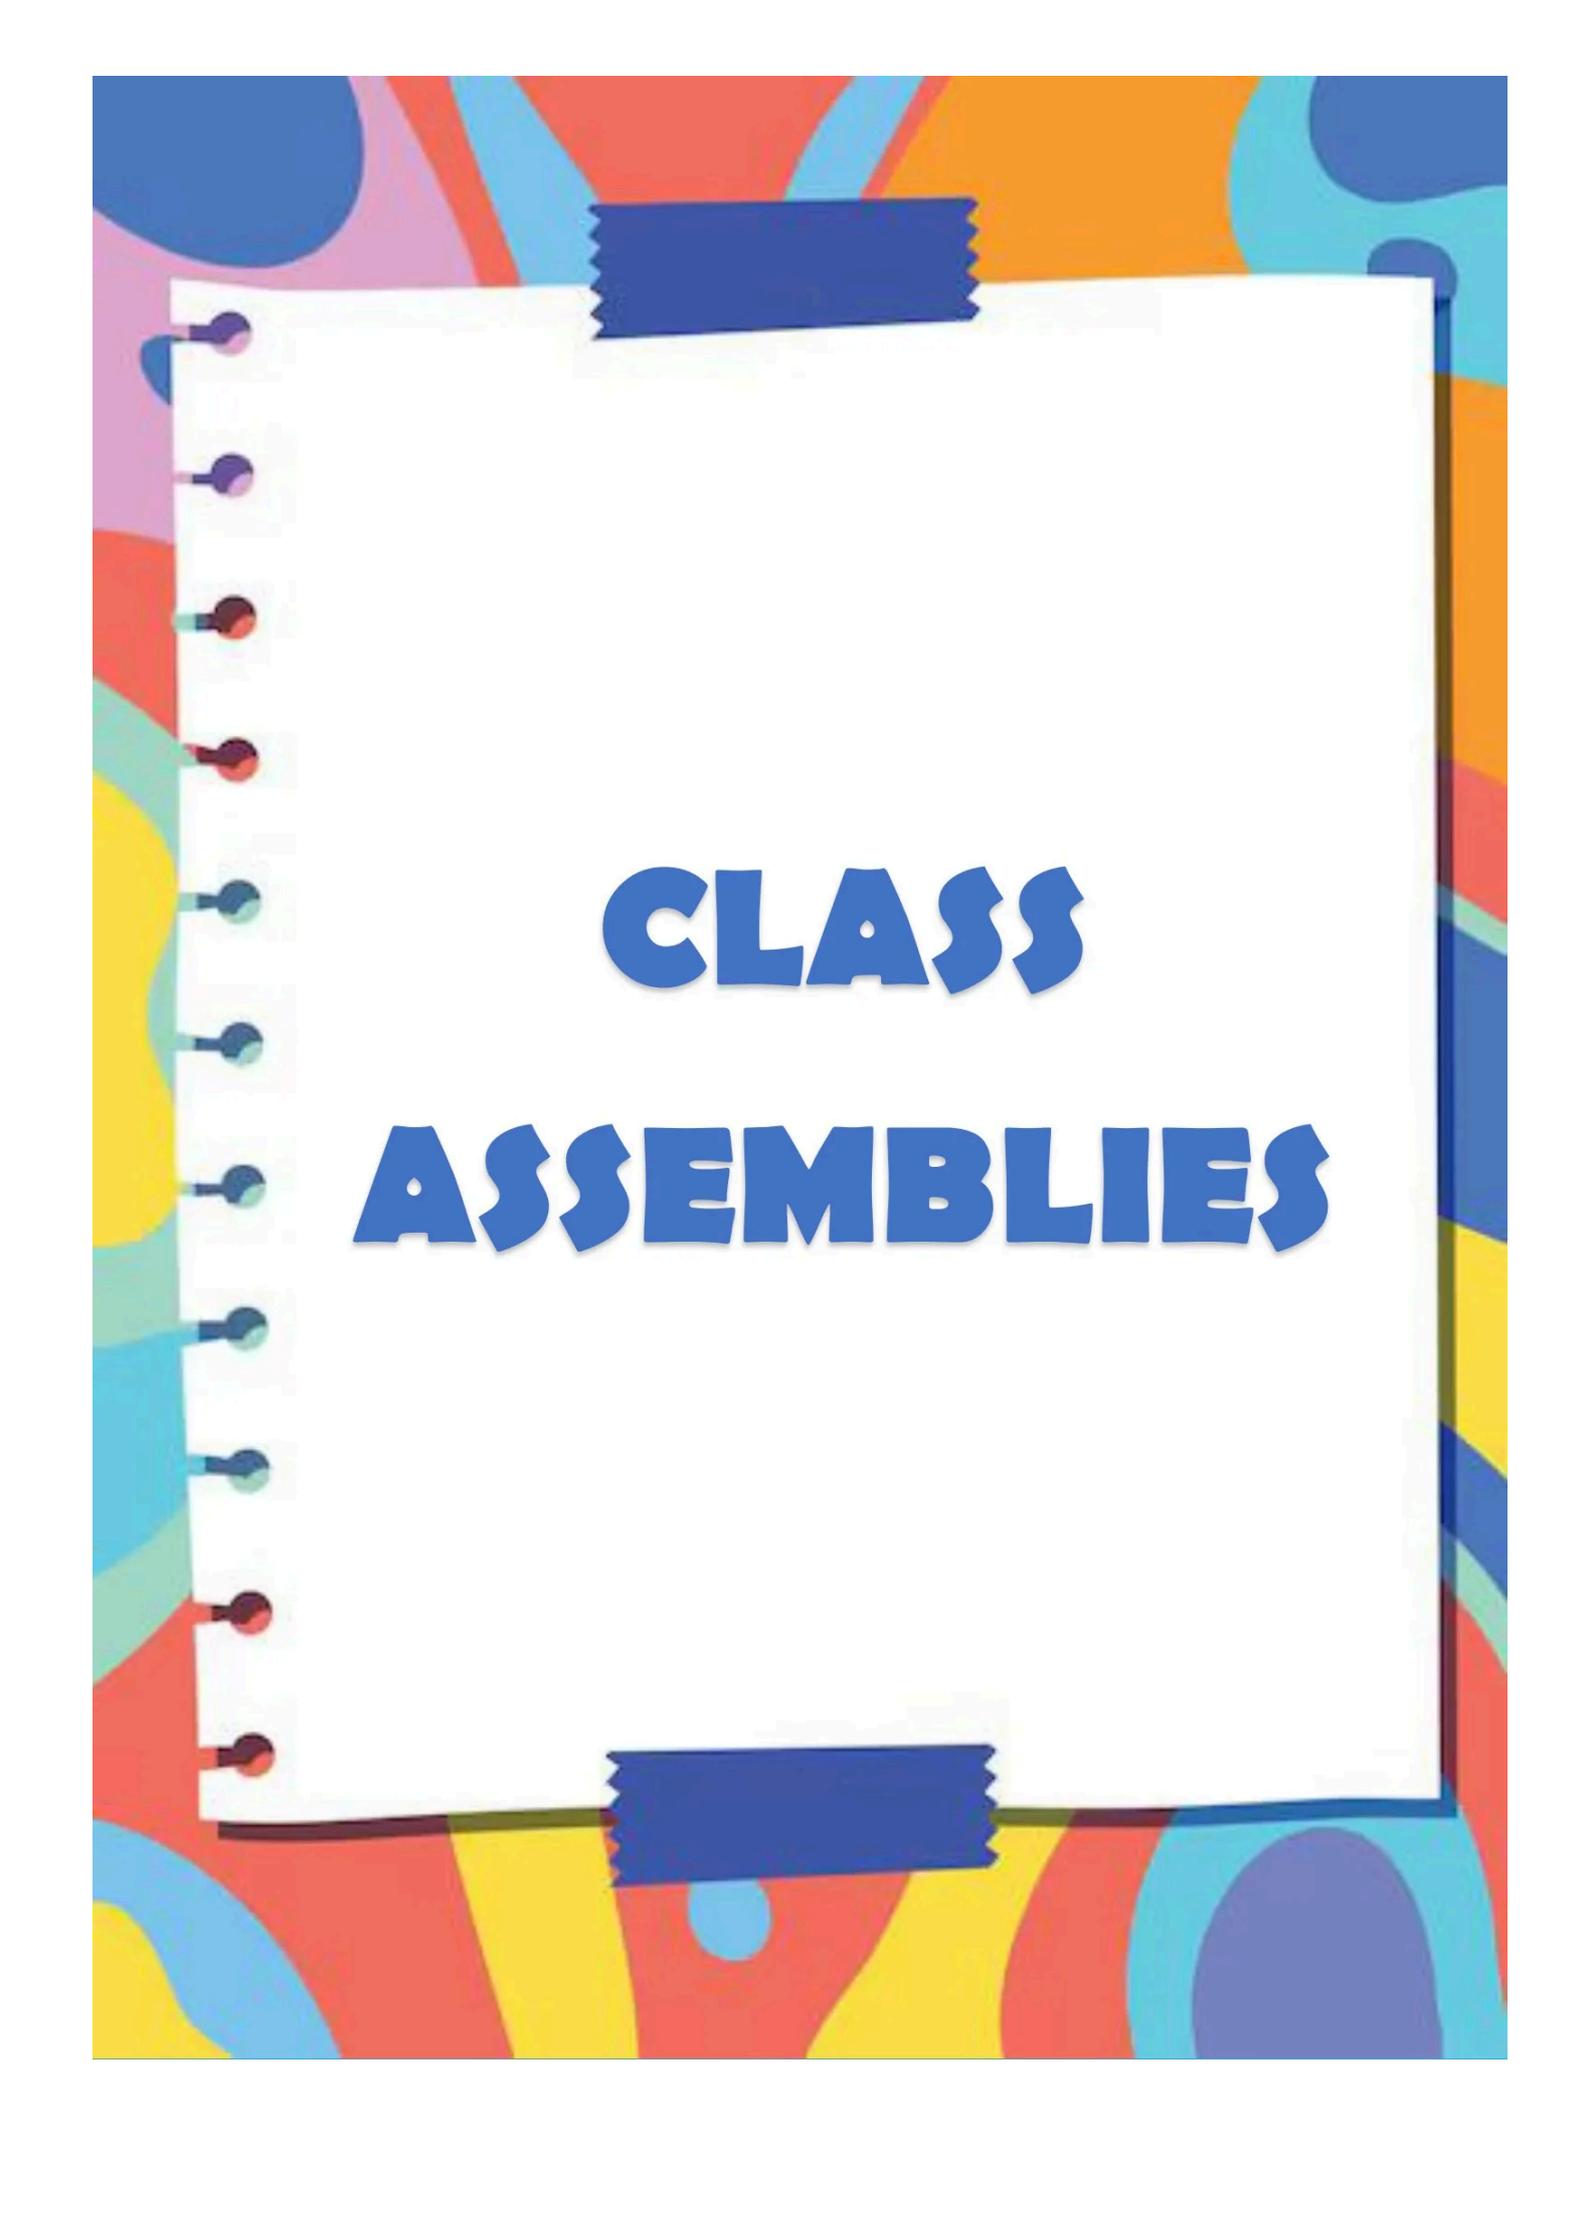

To ensure a successful and fulfilling journey, it is crucial to establish a supportive network of peers, mentors, and role models. By sharing our goals and aspirations with others, we can gain valuable insights, receive constructive feedback, and stay motivated and accountable.

As we navigate the complexities of academic life, it is vital to maintain a balance between intellectual pursuits and personal well-being. By prioritizing self-care, engaging in extracurricular activities, and fostering meaningful relationships, we can cultivate a holistic approach to education and personal growth.

Let us embrace the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead in 2025. Let us strive for excellence, cultivate a growth mindset, and support one another in our pursuit of knowledge, wisdom, and personal growth.

Wishing you a successful and fulfilling academic year!

Classroom Activities

GANDHI JAYANTI

Mahatma Gandhi and Lal Bahadur Shastri were visionary leaders who profoundly shaped India's history through their unwavering commitment to peace, equality, and national progress. Remarkably, both share the same birth date, October 2, a day now celebrated as Gandhi Jayanti and Lal Bahadur Shastri Jayanti, in recognition of their immense contributions to the nation.

With his philosophy of non-violent resistance (Satyagraha), Mahatma Gandhi led the fight for India's independence and championed social reforms such as empowering the poor, eliminating the caste system, and promoting religious tolerance. Lal Bahadur Shastri, India's second Prime Minister, is remembered for his humility, leadership, and famous slogan "Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan," which reflects his vision for a strong and self-reliant India.

To honour their legacies, students engaged in various creative activities. Grade I students created the iconic 3 monkeys symbolizing "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." Grade II students designed posters on Swachh Bharat, while Grade III students recited Gandhi's inspiring quotes. In tribute to Shastri's remarkable life, Grade IV students crafted inspiring slogans, and Grade V students explored his life through engaging videos and thoughtful writings.

Their timeless messages of peace, equality, and progress continue to inspire future generations to work toward a better world.
